Create an app user

What is an app user?

The vcard is a versatile tool that allows users to access essential contact information without needing to log into the application. However, by logging in with an app user, a series of additional functionalities are unlocked that enrich the user experience. These exclusive features include:

- Access to the User Profile
- The Contact Scanning function developed with artificial intelligence
- The FAQ section, which provides quick and helpful answers to common queries

To log into a vcard, an invitation must first be sent to the corresponding user, and the user must then activate their account. To do this, follow these steps:

Create an app user for a vcard

Tasks to be performed by the team administrator:

1. Access the list of cards of your employees
2. Select the card you want, and select "Create app user".

The recipient will receive an email with the steps to follow for activating the vcard.
